

one of the world's leading business information companies

delivering intelligence

and strategic information
through a variety of media

International Sales Opportunities

The marcus evans group has been producing high level business events for over 20 years. As one of the world's leading business information companies, marcus evans provides many products that will assist an organisation in developing its strategies and enable growth.

Sales opportunities exist in the sales department based at our Cyprus office. We are interested in having access to dynamic and enthusiastic individuals that are looking to further their sales and business development careers with an international company that offers true career opportunities here in Cyprus and opportunities to travel abroad.

The right candidate for the Sales department will be a self-motivated individual who is determined and persistent. You must have impeccable communication skills and the confidence necessary to do business with the top decision-makers.

Fluent English is essential. Other European languages are advantageous.

To apply, please send covering letter and full CV quoting reference number DA/PH/0413 to svetlanak@marcusevanscy.com